

Indispensable element
Cohesion

Share Unity
For outdoor

When you go camping, it becomes an atmosphere maker for everyone. When you are apart, it also becomes the light of for everyone.

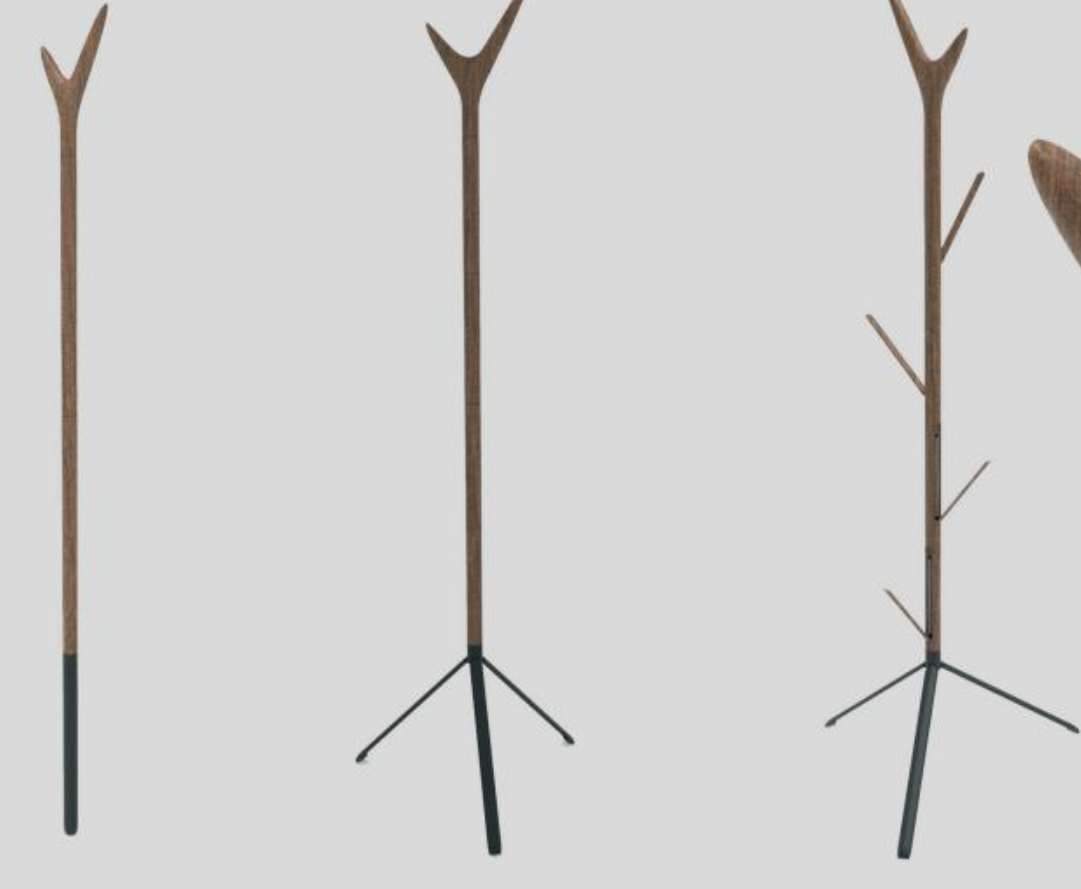

Detachable

Each section can be used as a separate luminaire. When we're camping or going out, it's inevitable that we'll split up, so we can split the branches into four sections to make four flashlights. When you open the lid, the lamp will automatically light up. Close the lid when not in use.

When all the flashlights are connected and turned on, they become a branch. This is when the lighting is at its best.

Open the process

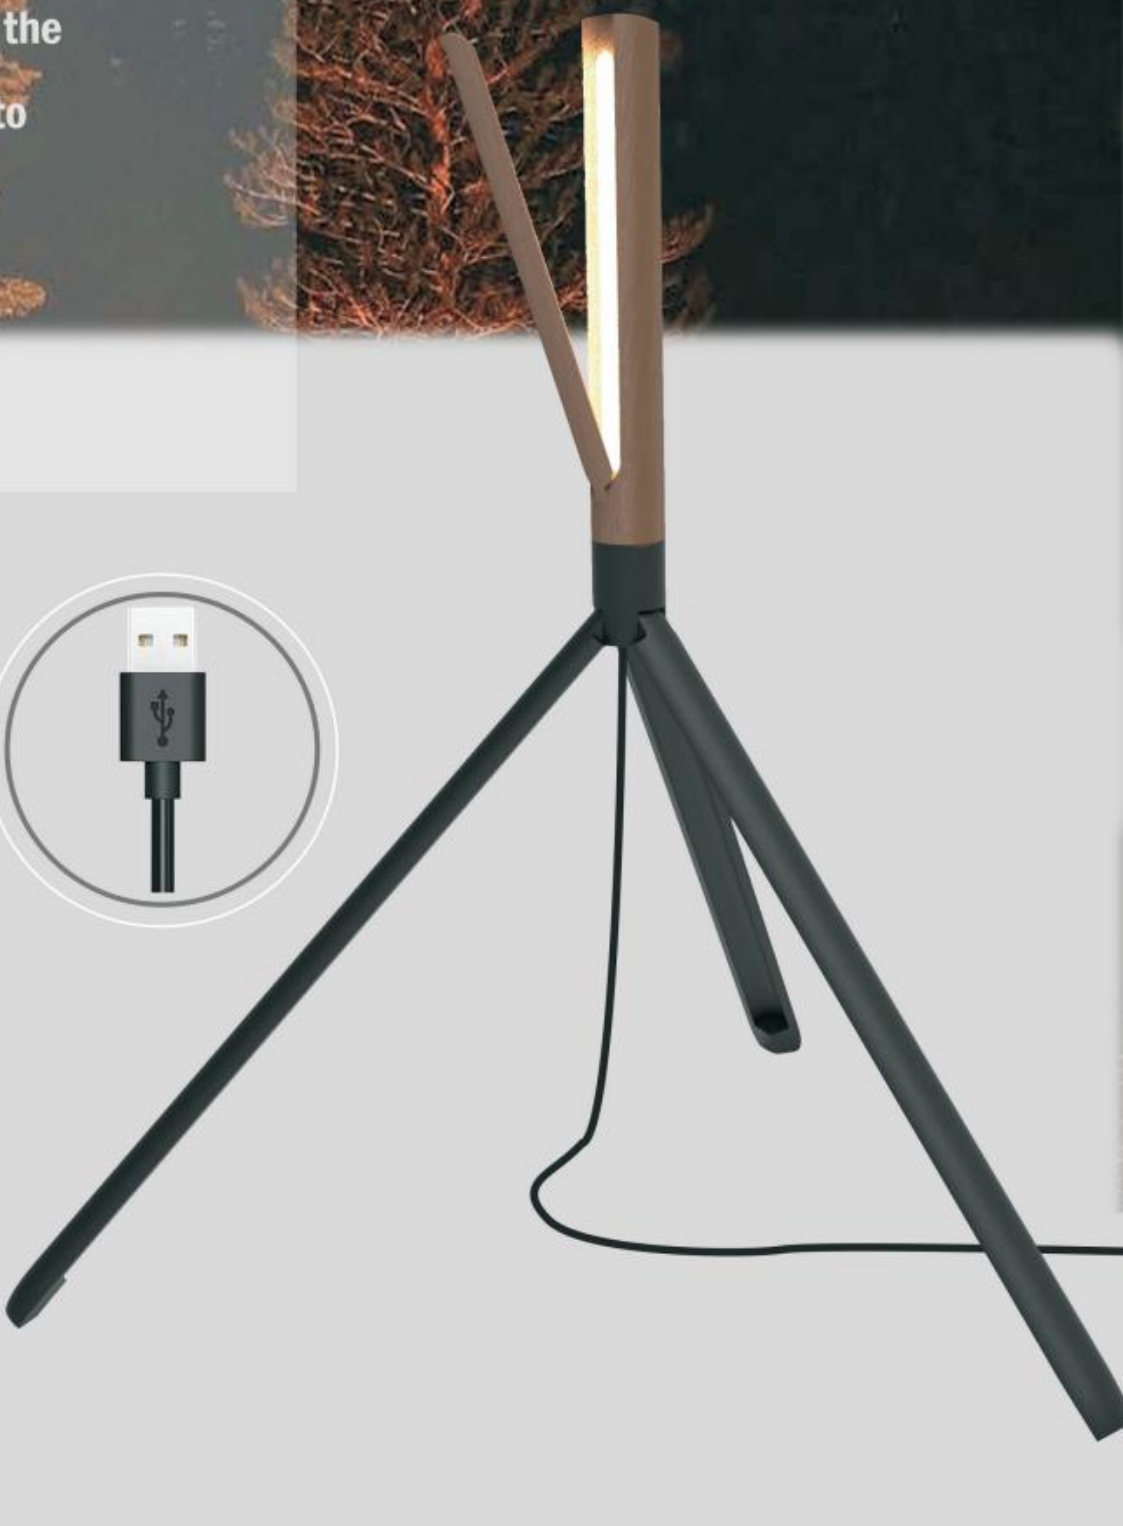

The product is able to share and assemble the lamp anytime and anywhere by simply connecting, connecting each individual power source at three points. When they connect, they will become brighter lighting facilities. The friends sat around chatting and eating, and a warm atmosphere enveloped the whole camp. Of course, it can also adjust the brightness. Turn off a few branches and let everyone go to sleep.

How to connect

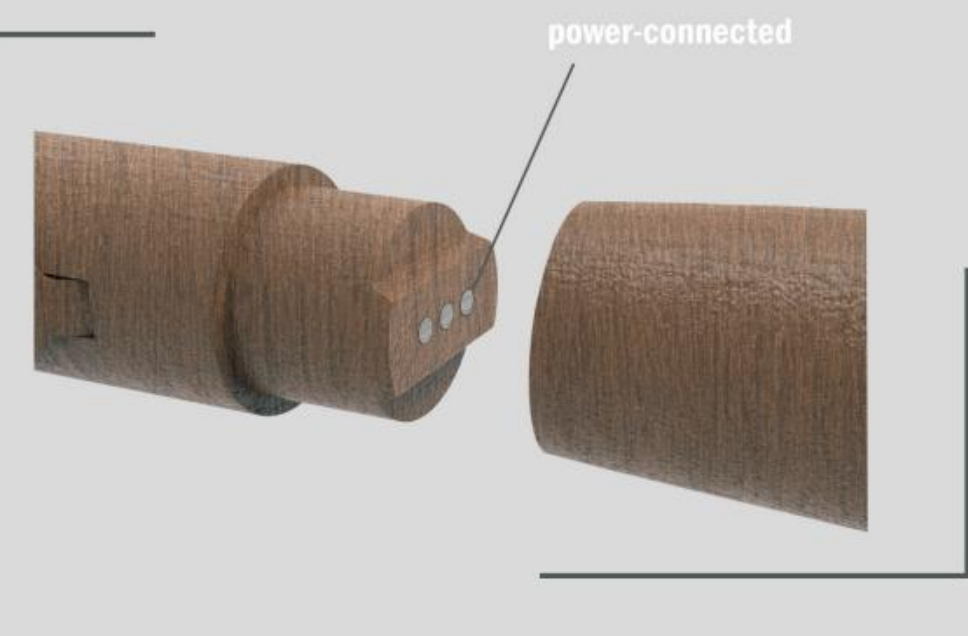

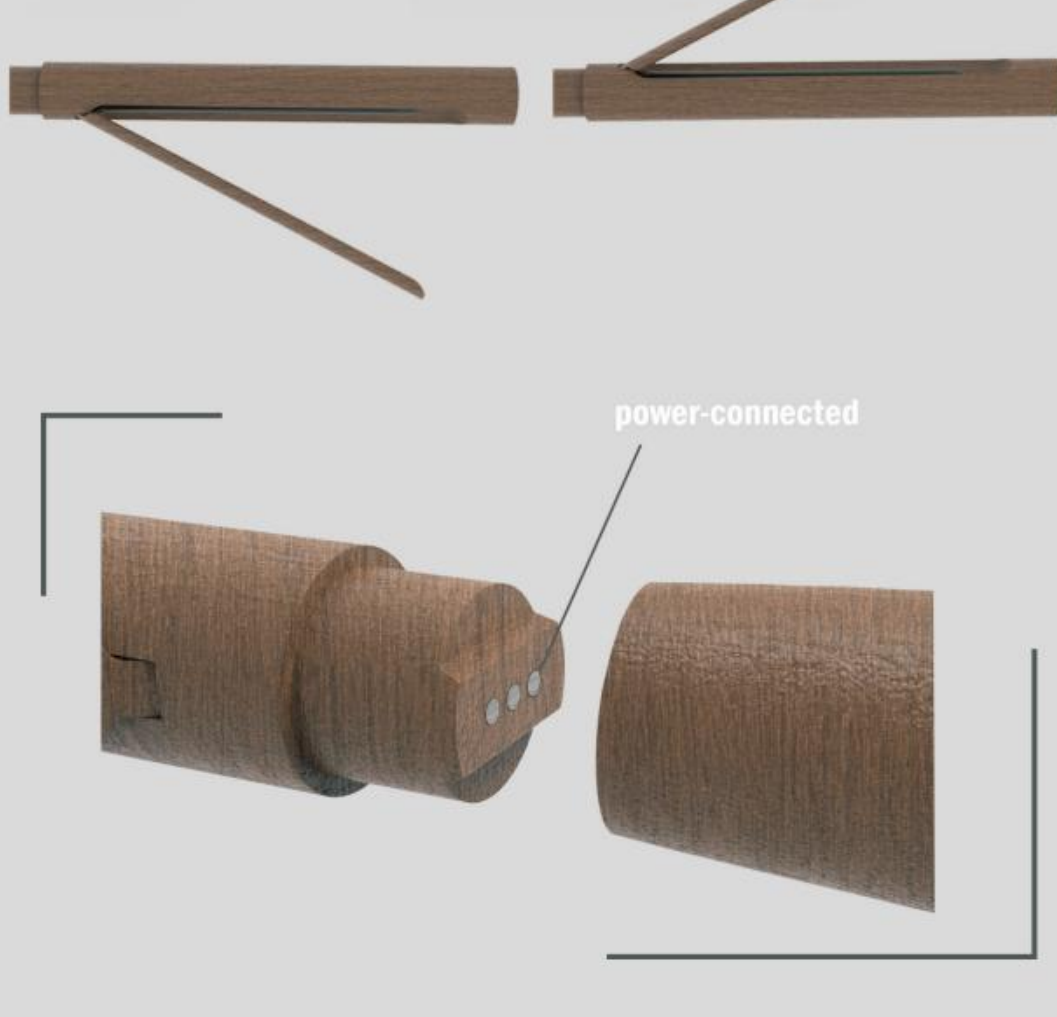

The connection of three points enables each unit to be connected to the power supply.

Each cell has a battery, which is guaranteed when used separately. USB is installed at the end of the product for external power supply.

The connection method

The sketch

